TSP143IV SK Sticky Label Printer

Smart Labeling for High-Demand Environments

The TSP143IV SK sticky label printer is Star Micronics' removable label addition to the trusted TSP100 series, tailored for today's fast-paced industries such as food service, delivery, takeout, and laundry. With a focus on precision, versatility, and sustainability, this compact printer streamlines labeling tasks while optimizing modern workflows.

The TSP143IV SK offers four connectivity options—USB, LAN, WLAN, and Bluetooth—ensuring compatibility with iOS, Android, and Windows devices. Its innovative Wi-Fi setup makes network connection easy, using either the Star Quick Setup Utility app or via QR code (SK X4 models only). Both methods provide a user-friendly experience, complete with diagnostic printouts to confirm successful configuration.

This printer produces repositionable linerless sticky labels that adhere to surfaces without residue, providing a practical solution for order accuracy and efficient workflows. These labels are ideal for applications ranging from tracking drive-thru and coffee orders to allergen and exception labeling, ensuring clear communication and compliance in high-demand environments

With support for CloudPRNT Next and the MQTT protocol, the TSP143IV SK series redefines cloud-based printing with faster, more reliable communication and reduced processing times. This scalable system streamlines remote management across multiple devices and locations, providing exceptional flexibility and control. In addition, Android Open Accessory (AOA) via USB-C ensures seamless power and communication with Android devices for greater convenience.

All TSP143IV SK models prioritize sustainability with EnergyStar certification. The latest TSP143IV SK X4 models take sustainability a step further with eco-friendly packaging as well. The box size is reduced by 30%, minimizing material waste and helping reduce CO_2 emissions during transport (SK X4 models only).
